Weekly Summary

Buying activity today was extremely aggressive as buyers strongly competed for today's feeder calf offering. With no market figures to compare with from the previous week's Holiday closings, we used the last sale's averages from 2023 to gain a comparison perspective. This comparison showed all feeder class averages ranged from $15 to $25 cwt higher. The slaughter figures however stayed the same.

The wheat country remains in excellent shape proving there is still adequate room to continue to hold more inventory. Lighter offerings in the market arenas also is helping fuel these higher prices.

COMMENTS

Packer cows and bulls would be steady to $5 higher than last week. Replacement cow market still holding strong with good demand on heavy bred cows. Calf/yearling market was on fire today. We have the best buyers anywhere.... with frigid temps on every forecast, the guys never backed up and bought very aggressively. Across the board, steers would be 5-8 higher. Heifer cattle would be anywhere from $5-$15 higher!! Lightweight girls ready for wheat showed the greatest demand of all, running neck to neck with 350-425-pound boys. We appreciate everyone and wish you and your livestock the best with the upcoming cold front. KEEP AND EYE ON OUR FACEBOOK PAGE, before you plan to sell next week. We will watch the weather closely. Sale Pending...

THANKS TO EVERYONE! WE APPRECIATE YOU!
