Weekly Summary

Compared to last week's market, the price averages on both feeder steers and heifers weighing 400 lbs and down ended $2 to $4 higher while the heavier classes showed to be firm with last week's averages. The slaughter cow and bull demand continue to remain strong as both finished firm with last week's figures.

As we approach the mid-summer months, both the grilling and restaurant trade remain remarkably strong. Beef continues to be the consumer's choice of protein even with higher prices as lower feedlot inventories continue to force buyers to compete at higher figures.

COMMENTS

Pretty good day today as we saw a little bounce back from last weeks market hiccup on the yearlings. Steer cattle several dollars higher and heifers mostly steady. We would see close to a 10 dollar drop in packer cows and bulls. Watch for pictures and updates on a herd liquidation of 300 crossbred cows on July 31st. Primarily tiger stripes, with 20 being pairs. Remainder of cows will be bred to Charolais bulls. We appreciate everyone and will see yall next Wednesday!
