Weekly Summary

Compared to last week's market, the price averages on feeder steers ended $2 to $4 higher while the feeder heifers showed $1 to $3 stronger. Slaughter bulls' figures remained firm while the slaughter cows advanced about $3.

Last Friday's Cattle on Feed Report was bullish as the placement figures were lighter than pre-report estimates. Again, this bullish information continues to strengthen an already strong feeder market. The market is predicted to remain strong due to lower inventory and a strong beef demand.

COMMENTS

Packer cows and bulls would be 5-10 higher in places. Most classes of yearlings would be several dollars higher, especially the lighter end of things. Very good ticket on a load of 570 lb. home raised steers. Next week will be a big one, over 300 cows and 200 yearling dispersal sale. Make sure to come see us! We appreciate everyone who holds this ship together and look forward to next Wednesday.
