Weekly Summary

Compared to last week, all classes of feeder steers and heifers price averages ended fully $3 to $4 softer with some of the plainer classes $5 to $8 lower. The overall averages were affected by a showing of plainer quality, but the front-end feeders still are commanding good figures. Slaughter cows and bulls remained firm with last week.

Heading into August the feeder market remains in excellent shape with the demand strong.

COMMENTS

We started out the day with a bang and ended just as strong. Really nice set of crossbred cows bringing good tickets. Packer cows and bulls are still very strong as well. Most of the yearlings would be a few dollars higher than last week on any of the lighter cattle and mostly steady to a dollar or two cheaper on heavy feeder cattle. Overall, a great day with great cattle. We appreciate everyone and see yall next week!
